REFERENCE(S)

1. Since our recent discussion concerning the capability of BGCALLUS to prepare meaningful reports on the subject of physical sciences in the Soviet Union, the matter has been further explored with ☐ who spent four years at BGCALLUS as editor of one of its publications. ☐ advises that to the best of his knowledge no one on the present emigre staff at BGCALLUS would be qualified to handle a subject of this kind.

2. As we indicated to you in our previous conversation on this matter, the former DS-705 might be of some assistance in preparing a paper on the subject in which you are interested. We refer you again to the paper he prepared in accordance with the request contained in EGMW 6529 and transmitted to Headquarters with EGMA 38066. The subject matter of this particular work was "The Influence of Party Organs on the Development of Scientific Research and Development in the Industry of the USSR." We also refer you to EGMA 38495 which was sent to COS on 13 November and contains information about a book which the former DS-705 is contemplating at this time.
